

YOUR TASK

Please you might find helpful...

If you feel QUITE confident...

Write 10 numbered instructions to help the engineers fit the Iron Man back together. You can use the examples on the next page to help you.

If you feel confident...

Write a set of clear and relevant instructions explaining exactly how to fit the Iron Man back together. Include a list of equipment needed and a labelled diagram.

If you feel VERY confident...

Write a set of clear and relevant instructions explaining exactly how to fit the Iron Man back together.

Ensure you use at least 10 connectives.

STARTER

You must use imperative (strong) verbs to give instructions to the Iron Man as he stands with his feet out into space...

Can you think of any examples?

LO: To write clear and relevant instructions.

The Iron Man is taken to pieces and flown to Australia in and challenge the space-bat-angel-dragon to a test of strength. He has volunteered to be the 'champion of the earth'.

How do you think instructions might be useful at this point?

Instructions tell someone how to do or make something.
What do we need to remember to include?

Imperative (strong) verbs

Please help me!

Clear title and opening

List of what is needed

Present tense

Clear steps in order (easy to follow)

Bullet points, numbers or letters to organise the steps

Time connectives like firstly, after that...

Labelled diagram

L.O. To write clear and relevant instructions.

Can you help the engineers to fit the Iron Man back together by putting these instructions in the order?

Finally, place the shiny, round eyes into the eye sockets.

Firstly, lay out all the body parts carefully on the bench and check there is nothing missing.

After that, fit the great iron legs on to the lower part of

Pinning Down the Past Mike Corbishley, 2014-04-17 In a relatively short period of time the pursuit of archaeology has evolved from an antiquarian interest to a specialised scientific activity Part of this evolution has always included the interest of the public and archaeologists efforts to educate them As each new method and technique is developed and each new specialism is created the challenge of making archaeology available as a learning resource grows with it Today for example the issues which surround archaeology and heritage such as the pressures of tourism on sites now form part of many formal educational curricula This book the first to deal with the subject in such depth examines the place of education and outreach within the wider archaeological community Written by one of Britain s leading archaeological educationalists it charts the sometimes difficult and painful growth and development of education and archaeology Packed full of informative and enlightening case studies from the circus at Colchester to Sutton Hoo and Hadrian s Wall this work examines exactly how we have reached the point we are at where that place is and suggests areas for future development By drawing upon many decades of experience at the front line of archaeological education the author has produced a key text that will play a major role in the on going development of the heritage industry Publisher s website Craft Lessons Ralph J. Fletcher,JoAnn Portalupi,2007 Since its publication in 1998 Craft Lessons has become a staple in the writing classroom of both new and experienced teachers Authors Ralph Fletcher and JoAnn Portalupi recognized the need for a succinct resource and teamed together to write the second edition of Craft Lessons Teaching Writing K 8 Teachers pressed for time will appreciate the practical lessons and instructional language geared to three grade level groupings K 2 3 4 and 5 8 This edition includes 17 brand new lessons mini lessons designed from teachers comments about what is observed students writing Revisions to other craft lessons and the resource materials sections have been expanded New ways to approach teaching using elements of craft and the reading writing connection A subject index to find specific craft lessons with ease The authors thoughts about how craft lessons fit into their newest thinking about the qualities of writing Ideas Design Language and Presentation The 95 lessons in this book provide a wealth of information for teaching leads character endings stronger verbs and much more This new edition reestablishes Craft Lessons as the crucial desert island book for harried writing teachers everywhere *Report by H.M.
