Czanderna, Theodore E. Madey, Cedric J. Powell, 2006-04-11 Many books are available that detail the basic principles of the different methods of surface characterization On the other hand the scientific literature provides a resource of how individual pieces of research are conducted by particular laboratories Between these two extremes the literature is thin but it is here that the present volume comfortably sits Both the newcomer and the more mature scientist will find in these chapters a wealth of detail as well as advice and general guidance of the principal phenomena relevant to the study of real samples In the analysis of samples practical analysts have fairly simple models of how everything works Superimposed on this ideal world is an understanding of how the parameters of the measurement method the instrumentation and the characteristics of the sample distort this ideal world into something less precise less controlled and less understood The guidance given in these chapters allows the scientist to understand how to obtain the most precise and understood measurements that are currently possible and where there are inevitable problems to have clear guidance as the extent of the problem and its likely behavior Optical Fabrication and Testing Roland Geyl, Jonathan Maxwell, 1999 Sixty one papers on topics surrounding optical fabrication and testing Index of Specifications and Standards ,1990 Advanced High Strength Steel And Press Hardening - Proceedings Of The 4th International Conference On Advanced High Strength Steel And Press Hardening (Ichs2018) Yisheng Zhang, Mingtu Ma, 2018-12-18 The automotive industry requirements for vehicle weight reduction weight containment improved part functionality and passenger safety have resulted in the increased use of steel grades with a fully martensitic microstructure These steel grades are essential to improve the anti intrusion resistance of automotive body parts and the related passenger safety during car collisions Standard advanced high strength steel AHSS grades are notoriously difficult to be formed by cold stamping they are characterized by elastic springback poor stretch flangeability and low hole expansion ratios Hot stamping has therefore received much attention recently as an alternative technology to produce AHSS automotive parts In this book selected articles from the Fourth International Conference on Advanced High Strength Steel and Press Hardening held on August 20-22th 2018 in Hefei China are compiled It focuses on AHSS for the development of press hardening of high performance sheet metal for lightweight vehicle advanced digital manufacturing technology as well as the physical metallurgy principles of the hot stamping process Aiming at the process design and industrial application for hot stamping of press hardened steel and high strength aluminium alloy sheet the effect of temperature and strain rate on the formability and mechanical properties of the products is discussed In addition more practical cases are provided concerning accurate modelling and multi physics coupling simulation of the hot stamping process Furthermore the influence of tool design on forming process more precise process control strategies to increase production efficiency and the improvement of hot stamping equipment by advanced design methods will also be presented OITDA Activity Report ,
