Mental Health Practice for the Occupational Therapy Assistant is a comprehensive text that delineates the role of the occupational therapy assistant in the delivery of mental health services. Christine Manville and Jeremy Keough provide information and learning activities that enable the student to build knowledge of mental health practice incorporating approaches used in the traditional medical model as well as the community. The impact of mental illness on occupational performance across the lifespan is also examined. Current and emerging trends in mental health practice are discussed as well as service provision in the traditional medical model. The appendices include a discussion of additional factors that impact the provision and efficacy of therapy services, including pharmacology and ethical and legal issues. Features: Provides an overview of the DSM-5 and the World Health Organization's International Classification of Functioning, Disability, and Health. These classification systems provide a common language for practitioners from a variety of disciplines to communicate about the impact of mental illness on occupational performance and participation. Terminology from the Occupational Therapy Practice Framework, Third Edition, is utilized to enhance the development of clinical reasoning and practice skills.
