The metabolic pathways and environmental controls of hydrocarbon biodegradation in marine ecosystems Joel E. Kostka, Andreas P. Teske, Samantha B. Joye, Ian Head, 2015-05-15

Biodegradation mediated by indigenous microbial communities is the ultimate fate of the majority of oil hydrocarbon that enters the marine environment The aim of this Research Topic is to highlight recent advances in our knowledge of the pathways and controls of microbially catalyzed hydrocarbon degradation in marine ecosystems with emphasis on the response of microbial communities to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico In this Research Topic we encouraged original research and reviews on the ecology of hydrocarbon degrading bacteria the rates and mechanisms of biodegradation and the bioremediation of discharged oil under situ as well as near in situ conditions

2025-26 CBSE and States Boards Class-X Social Science YCT Expert Team , 2025 26 CBSE and States Boards Class X Social Science 256 495 E This book contains the previous year solved papers from 2010 to 2023 White Paper on Science and Technology ,2015 Understanding West Africas Ebola Epidemic Ibrahim Abdullah, Ismail Rashid, 2017-10-15

From 2013 to 2015 over 11 000 people across West Africa lost their lives to the deadliest outbreak of the Ebola virus in history Crucially this epidemic marked the first time the virus was able to spread beyond rural areas to major cities overturning conventional assumptions about its epidemiology With backgrounds ranging from development to disease control the contributors to this volume some of them based in countries affected by the Ebola epidemic consider the underlying factors that shaped this unprecedented outbreak While championing the heroic efforts of local communities and aid workers in halting the spread of the disease the contributors also reveal deep structural problems in both the countries and humanitarian agencies involved which hampered the efforts to contain the epidemic Alarminglly they show that little has been learned from these events with health provision remaining underfunded and poorly equipped to deal with future outbreaks Such issues they argue reflect the wider challenges we face in tackling epidemic disease in an increasingly interconnected world

Rethinking Research Methods in an Age of Digital Journalism Michael Karlsson, Helle Sjøvaag, 2018-10-18

The digital infrastructure of media production dissemination and consumption is becoming increasingly complex presenting the challenge of how we should research the digital journalism environment Digital journalism takes many forms we therefore need to revise improve adjust and even invent methods to understand emerging forms of journalism In this book scholars at the forefront of methodological innovations in digital journalism research share their insights on how to collect process and analyse the diverse expressions of digital journalism including online news search results hyperlinks and social media posts As digital journalism content often comes in the form of big data many of these new approaches depart from the traditional methods used in media research in significant ways As we move towards new ways of understanding digital journalism the methods developed for such purposes also need to be grounded in scientific rigour This book aims to share some of the emerging processes by which these methods tools and approaches are designed implemented and validated As such this book not only constitutes a benchmark for thinking about research methods in digital journalism it also provides an entry point for graduate students and seasoned scholars aiming to do research on digital journalism This book was originally published as a special issue of Digital Journalism

Food Security and the Modernisation Pathway in China

Marie-Hélène Schwoob, 2018-01-26 This book aims at providing students experts and practitioners with a detailed overview of agricultural and food security issues in China analyzed through the lenses of a multidisciplinary approach that enables to fully grasp the current socio political challenges and lock ins of agricultural transformation towards more sustainable practices Confronted to a running decrease and degradation of its resources and rapidly evolving food habits China became a net importer of food in 2004 and its agricultural balance has since become heavier every day Beyond providing a comprehensive overview of these stakes this book also presents consistent and original first hand research material collected by the author during months of fieldwork in China in the countryside and from various economic and political circles Conclusions drawn from this often difficult to access fieldwork shed light on the whole galaxy of public and private stakeholders taking part in agricultural modernization in China on their interests and on the patterns of power that underlie the development and implementation of agricultural policies

The Horn Engaging the Gulf Aleksí Ylönen, 2023-12-28

This book discusses theoretical perspectives of analyzing the relations between the states and non state actors in the Horn of Africa and their counterparts in the Persian Gulf and the Middle East Crucially these relations are examined primarily from the perspective of the diplomatic economic and strategic agency of the African states and societal actors Here domestic political dynamics and local power play a significant role Aleksí Ylönen provides a historically informed investigation of recent relations that involve the Gulf States and Türkiye's resurgent interest in the Horn Africa The analysis focuses on the post Arab Spring period following the Iran nuclear deal and the war in Yemen Featuring case studies from Ethiopia Somalia and Eritrea which highlight engagements of the Horn state and societal actors primarily with the Gulf States and Türkiye the study provides an empirical analysis of the interactions and connections between the two regions
