Memories of Ice Steven Erikson, 2005-11 Marking the return of many characters from Gardens of the Moon and introducing a host of remarkable new players this novel is both a momentous new chapter in Erikson's magnificent epic fantasy and a triumph of storytelling

Memories of Ice Steven Erikson, 2009-07-15 The ravaged continent of Genabackis has given birth to a terrifying new empire the Pannion Domin Like a fanatical tide of corrupted blood it seethes across the land devouring all who fail to heed the Word of its elusive prophet the Pannion Seer In its path stands an uneasy alliance Dujek Onearm's Host and the Bridgeburners each now outlawed by the Empress alongside some enemies of old that include the grim forces of Warlord Caladan Brood Anomander Rake Son of Darkness and his Tiste Andii and the Rhivi people of the Plains But more ancient clans are also gathering As if in answer to some primal summons the massed ranks of the undead T'lan Imass have risen It would seem that something altogether darker and more malign threatens the very substance of this world The Warrens are poisoned and rumours abound that the Crippled God is now unchained and intent on a terrible revenge Marking the return of many favourite characters from Garden of the Moon and introducing a host of remarkable new players Memories of Ice is the thrilling third chapter in Steven Erikson's magnificent genre defining epic fantasy

Subcreation: Fictional-World Construction from J.R.R. Tolkien to Terry Pratchett and Tad Williams Stefanie Schult, 2017-01-26 The doctoral thesis argues that the term Subcreation with its revised and broadened definition in part differing from J R R Tolkien's original term sub creation may be used for the discussion of the making of fictional worlds in literary discourse The successful conception of a fictional world depends on the reader's willing suspension of disbelief This depends both on the author and his skilled composition of the world and all its aspects as well as on the reader's acceptance of this invented fictional world The author needs to create a narrative with an inner consistency which is crucial to achieving the effect of the reader's immersion in the fictional world The fundamental aspects that an author needs to realize to achieve successful Subcreation have been structured into and analysed in four categories Language and Linguistic Variation Physiopoeia Anthropoeia and Mythopoeia Furthermore this thesis shows that as contemporary examples of fantastic literature both Tad Williams's and Terry Pratchett's fictional worlds are successfully created through the realization of these aspects of Subcreation Apart from commenting on the success of the subcreative process this thesis also remarks upon the cultural influences both authors include in their writings While both may be considered Anglophone in a general categorization Pratchett's Discworld retains a feeling of Britishness that is not to be found in Williams's Otherland The thesis proposes several approaches to Subcreation that may be studied subsequently So for example it may be possible to determine the success of an author's Subcreation by collecting empirical data Apart from literary works this field of studies may also include other media
