The Sentimental Moor in Spanish Literature Before 1600 ... Harry Austin Deferrari, 1927 Hispania, 1927 Theology and Conversation Jacques Haers, P. De Mey, 2003 This collection of articles presents the main contributions to the third LEST Louvain Encounters in Systematic Theology conference held at the KU Leuven's Faculty of Theology November 2001 Its theme Theology and Conversation Towards a Relational Theology continues the explorations in contemporary theology as set out in the 1997 LEST I conference on The Myriad Christ BETL 152 and in the 1999 LEST II conference on Sacramental Presence in Postmodern Context BETL 160 In LEST III also the plurality and diversity of theological approaches play a major role and the question is raised whether the contemporary theological endeavour in a global world contains in itself the tools to respectfully and constructively approach this diversity The ideas of relation and conversation as found in the theologies of the Trinity and of creation as presupposed in ecclesial praxis and as articulated in reflections that take their bearings from spiritual experience provide a powerful means for renewed theological reflection capable of confronting plurality and diversity that focuses on the female Amerindian characters in comedias based on the discovery exploration and conquest of America. This book emerges as a response to the limited number of studies that focus on these characters and more importantly on the function of these characters as theatrical artifacts within conquest plays. Conquest plays are about a handful; their heroes are the European male conquerors, yet the Amerindian has attracted attention from critics for the value as constructs of cultural discourse. We see this character, the theatrical Indian, as a construct, an instrument in many ways, a spectacular artifact of the baroque tramoya which emerges from the conversion point of the Counterreformation ideology. It has been our purpose here to advance the study of these characters by adding a gender perspective. Therefore, while sociological and cultural studies are still a fundamental part of the theoretical framework of this project, we use feminism as a critical matrix in our inquiries. Amerindian female characters stand apart from male Amerindians and Spanish women in dramas which we believe make them worthy of individual attention. The articles in this collection delineate different representations of Amerindian women, and as a whole, this book contributes to a better understanding of the dramatic use of these characters. Urban Plan,

Female Amerindians in Early Modern Spanish Theater Gladys Robalino, 2014-08-20 Female Amerindians in Early Modern Spanish Theater is a collection of essays

Architecture, and the Geography of the Sacred in Colonial Morelos Robert H. Jackson, Leonardo Meraz Quintana, 2024-12-02. In the sixteenth century, Franciscan, Dominican, and Augustinian missionaries attempted to evangelize the indigenous peoples of central Mexico. Indigenous peoples incorporated the new faith into their belief system on their own terms and continued to conceptualize a sacred geography that ordered their world and regulated time. At the same time, the missionaries had new sacred complexes built, but the question remains: why did indigenous peoples dedicate labor and community resources to these projects? This study analyzes the urban plan of indigenous communities, the construction of new sacred complexes, and the ways in which the urban plan conformed to the notion of sacred geography. Spain and Spanish America in the Libraries of the University of California, University of California, Berkeley. Spanish Drama Before Lope de Vega James Pyle Wickersham Crawford, 1922. The Mestizo Mind Serge Gruzinski, 2002. Mestizo, a person of mixed blood, specifically a person of mixed European and American Indian ancestry. Serge Gruzinski, the renowned historian of Latin America, offers a brilliant original critique of colonization and globalization in The Mestizo Mind. Looking at the fifteenth-century colonization of Latin America, Gruzinski documents the mestizaje that resulted from colonized mating with colonizers: Indians joining the Catholic Church and colonial government and Amerindian visualizations of Jesus and Perseus. These physical and cultural encounters created a new culture, a new individual, and a phenomenon we now call globalization. Revealing globalization's early origins, Gruzinski then fast-forwards to the contemporary mestizaje seen in the films of Peter Greenaway and Wong Kar Wai to argue that over 500 years of intermingling has produced the mestizo mind, a state of mixed thinking that we all possess. A masterful alchemy of history, anthropology, philosophy, and visual analysis, The Mestizo Mind definitively conceptualizes the clash of civilizations in the style of Homi Bhabha, Gayatri Spivak, and Anne McClintock. Washington University Studies, Washington University (Saint Louis, Mo.), 1919. Fiction in Spanish which
