Monster High Number In Series:

Internet Children's Television Series, 1997-2015 Vincent Terrace, 2016-08-22 Created around the world and available only on the web internet television series are independently produced mostly low budget shows that often feature talented but unknown performers Typically financed through crowd funding they are filmed with borrowed equipment and volunteer casts and crews and viewers find them through word of mouth or by chance The fifth in a series focusing on the largely undocumented world of internet TV this book covers 573 children's series created for viewers 3 to 14 The genre includes a broad range of cartoons CGI live action comedies and puppetry Alphabetical entries provide websites dates casts Monstrous Possibilities Amanda Howell, Lucy Baker, 2022-11-04 This book focuses credits episode lists and storylines on how the abject spectacle of the monstrous feminine has been reimagined by recent and contemporary screen horrors focused on the desires and subjectivities of female monsters who as anti heroic protagonists of revisionist and reflexive texts exemplify gendered possibility in altered cultures of 21st century screen production and reception As Barbara Creed notes in a recent interview the patriarchal stereotype of horror that she named the monstrous feminine has decades later embarked on a life of her own Focused on this altered and renewed form of female monstrosity this study engages with an international array of recent and contemporary screen entertainments from arthouse and indie horror films by emergent female auteurs to the franchised products of multimedia conglomerates to quality television horror to the social media based creations of horror fans working as pro sumers In this way the monograph in its organisation and scope maps the converged and rapidly changing environment of 21st century screen cultures in order to situate the monstrous female anti hero as one of its distinctive products Heroes, Heroines, and Everything in Between Christopher J. Olson, CarrieLynn D. Reinhard, 2017-09-20 Current characters in children's entertainment media illustrate a growing trend of representations that challenge or subvert traditional notions of gender and sexuality From films to picture books to animated television series children's entertainment media around the world has consistently depicted stereotypically traditional gender roles and heterosexual relationships as the normal way that people act and engage with one another Heroes Heroines and Everything in Between Challenging Gender and Sexuality Stereotypes in Children's Entertainment Media examines how this media ecology now includes a presence for nonheteronormative genders and sexualities It considers representations of such identities in various media products e q comic books television shows animated films films children s literature meant for children e g toddlers to teenagers The contributors seek to identify and understand characterizations that go beyond these traditional understandings of gender and sexuality By doing so they explore these nontraditional representations and consider what they say about the current state of children's entertainment media popular culture and global acceptance of these gender identities and sexualities Acta Radiologica ,1971 Barbie in the Media Emily R. Aguiló-Pérez, Rebecca C. Hains, 2025-09-26 What is the significance of Barbie's journey from toy aisles to screens Barbie in the Media offers a groundbreaking exploration of Barbie as a transmedia phenomenon In examining the brand's multifaceted media presence this volume s chapters consider both Mattel s corporate storytelling about and fans reinterpretations of the iconic doll Collectively they reveal that these mediated negotiations of Barbie reflect and contribute to broader discourses about gender and identity in evolving sociopolitical contexts inscribing the doll with ever changing and often conflicting anxieties and dreams These render the brand's media presence a fascinating site of contested meaning worthy of the sustained critique that Barbie in the Media offers readers Bulletin. New Series National Electric Light Association, 1922 The Billboard ,1928 Electronics Buyers' Guide ,1978 Brenda Laurel Carly A. Fancy ,1922 Kocurek, 2017-02-09 Brenda Laurel is best known for her work with Purple Moon the pioneering game company she cofounded in the 1990s Purple Moon's games were based on years of research Laurel completed in an effort to understand why computer games seemed to be of so little interest to girls Using diverse archival sources such as trade journals newspapers and recorded interviews alongside Laurel's completed games and own writings and an original interview with Laurel herself this volume offers insight into both the early development of the games for girls movement of the 1990s and the lasting impact of Laurel's game design breakthroughs In her work with Purple Moon Laurel drew on her background in theatre as well as her expertise in human computer interaction and qualitative research By relying on this interdisciplinary background Laurel made significant contributions to our understanding of the design and development of games as a medium for emotional rehearsal and storytelling Additionally her dedication to research informed design has had a longstanding impact as companies and designers increasingly rely on audience research and metrics to shape their practices The newest in Bloomsbury's Influential Video Game Designers series Carly Kocurek highlights the contributions of a designer whose work has had a profound impact on the development of both games for girls and empathy games The Internal Revenue Record and Customs Journal, 1874 Liverpool and Manchester Photographic Journal ,1902 The Gardeners' Chronicle ,1892 Journal of Education ,1883 The Union Jack ,1903 The Garden .1903 The Floricultural Cabinet, and Florists Magazine, 1907 The Summary ,1908 The Lancet ,1877 New International Yearbook, 1922
