in contemporary behavioral science theory Beginning with the assertion that equality of educational opportunity depends on access to experiences that are sufficiently appropriate and rich to enable the achievement of diverse human potentials she provides a comprehensive school design for intervention that demonstrates how to achieve it Grounded in recent advances in learning science McCallister asserts three necessary conditions for learning the need for learners to have access to diverse rich environmental experiences the need for them to enjoy fundamental freedom and autonomy to direct their own learning and access to full and free forms of association In her model these conditions provide what is necessary for learners to coordinate their minds with others to develop their identities personalities and talents These conditions are animated in concrete procedures that can be adapted to a wide variety of populations in formal informal and remote educational settings The procedures take the form of rules that learners comply with in the exercise of their freedom When they are followed the rules provide a grammar for the social norms that govern the moral worlds of learners and compel them to flourish Tested over two decades in her work as a teacher scholar and school reformer in more than 20 NYC public schools the McCallister Method has delivered an innovative and disruptive approach to schooling that has proven successful in finally transforming low performing industrial schools into 21st century learning organizations Online support material includes assessments records surveys and more to be used in school design and classroom settings Atlas of Material Worlds Matthew Seibert, 2021-08-17 Atlas of Material Worlds is a highly designed narrative atlas illustrating the agency of nonliving materials with unique ubiquitous and often hidden influence on our daily lives Employing new materialism as a jumping off point it examines the increasingly blurry lines between the organic and inorganic engaging the following questions What roles do nonliving materials play Might a closer examination of those roles reveal an undeniable agency we have long overlooked or disregarded If so does this material agency change our understanding of the social structures ecologies economies cosmologies technologies and landscapes that surround us And perhaps most importantly why does material agency matter This is the story of the world's driest nonpolar desert pink flamingos and cerulean blue lithium ponds industrial shipping logistics pudding like jiggling substrates and monuments of mud galactic bodies radioactive sheep and the yellowcake of uranium Put simply this book dares readers to see the world anew from material up Atlas of Material Worlds offers this new relationship to our host environment in a time of mounting crises accelerating climate change ballooning socioeconomic inequality and rising toxic nationalism uniquely telling materialist stories for practitioners and students in landscape architecture and other built environment disciplines Toxic Sexual Politics Melina Packer, 2025-01-28 A bold exposé of how the very foundation of toxicology has been contaminated by sexist and racist ideologies The first critical understanding of the field of toxicology from a feminist and antiracist perspective Toxic Sexual Politics asserts that the science of toxicants must be held accountable for the uneven distribution of toxic pollution along racial and sexual lines Drawing upon in depth interviews and extensive ethnographic and archival research including participant observations in toxicology classrooms conferences and laboratories Melina Packer urges environmental health advocates to place toxicant science within its masculinist militarist and eugenicist history Toxic Sexual Politics shows how the founding fathers of U S toxicology were ideologically aligned with the chemical industry inventing a science that could make chemicals safe as opposed to one that could adequately protect planetary health from toxicants hazards While many toxicologists today are critical of the chemical industry they continue to rely on the highly limited tools of toxicology as accurate measures of toxicity as do government regulators the courts and environmental advocates Unlike most critiques of the chemical industry and narratives of environmental health movements Toxic Sexual Politics refuses to take the science at face value By focusing on the sexist racist and ableist biases reinforced by toxicology Packer powerfully argues that this scientific discipline reproduces the very same white supremacist and heterosexist logics that generated environmental injustices in the first place The field of toxicology can explicitly confront chemical corporate power by building from queer feminist anti ableist and antiracist movements for environmental and reproductive justice
