Fontaine,Cherryl Smith,2008 Writing academic essays in college often seems mysterious to students who do not yet understand the process of developing an idea into a finished piece of reasoned prose Writing Your Way Through College demystifies that process and enables teachers to help students invent the university as they reinvent themselves as proficient writers and rhetorical problem solvers Writing Your Way Through College offers instructors a set of careful lessons that draw on current disciplinary knowledge in composition and rhetoric Sheryl Fontaine and Cherryl Smith provide a classroom centered text that guides students through progressively more complex evidence based writing Writing Your Way Through College offers students and teachers practical lessons on writing and learning a set of assignments that build incrementally a support system for new instructors accessible information about college writing a flexible approach to the classroom In a concise readable format Writing Your Way Through College offers insights into how individuals negotiate language communities so that students can better master the conventions and rhetorical characteristics of academic writing A creative and effective template for the teaching of writing Writing Your Way Through College belongs on every shelf and in every classroom

Conversations in Context Kathryn Fitzgerald, Kathy Fitzgerald, Heather Bruce, Anna Vogt, Sharon Stasney, 1997-10 Conversations in Context Identity Knowledge and College Writing invites students to learn about and participate in a series of related conversations about student identities the aims of the university and the conventions of academic writing Rather than seeing academic writing as consisting of objective statements of truth the editors of this textbook view it as a social construction of knowledge that requires rhetorical choices as well as empirical research This book represents academic writing as a sequence of continuing conversations within discourse communities provides a variety of opportunities to engage with and participate in these conversations

Multimedia and Multivocality in a Basic Writing Classroom Jeffrey Niel Maxson, 1996 Teaching Writing in High School and College Thomas C. Thompson, 2002 Contains fifteen essays in which the authors explore the possibility of partnerships and exchanges between high school and college instructors with the goal of improving the ability of students to succeed at college level writing tasks

First-order Principles for College Teachers Robert Boice, 1996 Based on his many years of experience teaching new faculty about teaching and writing Boice presents ten basic interrelated principles that underlie effective teaching These principles address attitudes as well as actions Unique in its approach the book is a valuable resource for both novice and experienced teachers
