

SIM CITY 2000

Within seconds, you will be looking over a new Tutorial 1 City. Before moving on, let's set up Auto-Budget to keep that pesky Budget window ready for it, and add some police and fire stations.

Open the Options menu.

Select Auto-Budget (unless it's already on).

Click and hold on the City Services button in the Select Police from the submenu.

Place the police station somewhere in the city.

Click and hold on the City Services button in the Select Fire Station from the submenu.

Place a fire station somewhere in the city, near the police station.

Make sure the stations have power.

The Query Theory

Inquiring mayors want and need to know what's going on in their towns. And whether you need to research or are just curious, the Query tool gives you the answers.

Click on the Query button in the City toolbar.

Click on a house in your residential zone.

An information box has popped up, showing vital stats the simulator has gathered on the house you clicked.

all the information but to show it to you.

Again, an information box has popped up, but this one with different information—information that is important in judging the effectiveness of your police station. Whenever you query a police station, you will see the most useful information.

Pay attention to the numbers of officers, crimes and calls in this box, and scribble them down on a piece of paper if you can't handle them. Later on we'll see what calling the police is all about.

With the Resource button, SimCity 2000 allows you to personalize your city by renaming many of the buildings and locations.

Click on the Resource button.

In your own name for your police department, something like "Metropolitan Police," or "State Police."

Click on the Query button.

When houses, culture and income overlap, creative concepts flow through our minds, our shops, our homes. Under ideal conditions, we're better at it. Experience and education count as well.
