Training, Education, and Learning Sciences Salman Nazir, Tareq Z. Ahram, Waldemar Karwowski, 2021-06-26 This book addresses the importance of human factors in optimizing the learning and training process. It reports on the latest research and best practices relating to the application of behavioral and cognitive science and new technologies in the design of instructional and training content. It proposes innovative strategies for improving the learning and training experience and outcomes in different contexts including lower and higher education and different industry sectors. A special emphasis is given to digital and distance learning, gamification and virtual training. Gathering contributions to the AHFE 2021 Conference on Human Factors in Training, Education and Learning Sciences held virtually on July 25-29, 2021 from USA, this book offers extensive information and a thought-provoking guide for both researchers and practitioners in the field of education and training. Bibliography of the Zulu Language to the Year 1998 Nelly Mokhonoana, 1999 Changing Teaching, Changing Times Jonathan Clark, Cedric Linder, 2006-01-01 This is the story of a science teacher and her work in an over-crowded and under-resourced township secondary school in contemporary South Africa. While set firmly in the present, it is also a journey into the past, shedding fresh light on how the legacy of apartheid education continues to have a major influence on teaching and learning in South Africa. The book has a compelling story line with extensively referenced notes at the end of each chapter. It is intended for a wide audience which includes general readers, policy makers, teacher educators, researchers and most importantly practitioners in the field. For while it reminds us of the powerful constraining role that both context and students play in mediating a teacher's practice, it also attests to the power of individual agency. As such, it is a celebration of the actions of an ordinary teacher whose willingness to leave the well-worn paths of familiar practice stands as a beacon of possibility for contexts which seem so often to be devoid of hope. The Standardisation of African Languages , 2008

The Routledge Handbook of English as a Lingua Franca Jennifer Jenkins, Will Baker, Martin Dewey, 2017-08-23 The Routledge Handbook of English as a Lingua Franca (ELF) provides an accessible, authoritative and comprehensive introduction to the main theories, concepts, contexts and applications of this rapidly developing field of study. Including 47 state-of-the-art chapters from leading international scholars, the handbook covers key concepts, regional spread, linguistic features and communication processes, domains and functions of ELF in academia, ELF and pedagogy, and future trends. This handbook is key reading for all those engaged in the study and research of English as a lingua franca and world/global Englishes more
