Life Sciences September 2014 Question Paper For Eastern Cape:

The Oxford Handbook of Politics and Performance Shirin M. Rai, Milija Gluhovic, Silvija Jestrovic, Michael Saward, 2021-02-19 Political scientists and political theorists have long been interested in social and political performance. Theatre and performance researchers have often focused on the political dimensions of the live arts. Yet the interdisciplinary nature of this labor has typically been assumed rather than rigorously explored. Further, it is crucial to bring the concepts of theatre and performance deployed by other disciplines such as psychology, law, political anthropology, sociology, among others, into a wider as well as deeper interdisciplinary engagement. Embodying and fostering that engagement is at the heart of this new handbook. The Handbook brings together leading scholars in the fields of Politics and Performance to map out the evolving interdisciplinary engagement. The authors, drawn from a wide range of disciplines, investigate the relationship between politics and performance to show that certain features of political transactions shared by performances are fundamental to both disciplines and that they also share to a large extent a common communicational base and language. The volume is organized into seven thematic sections: the interdisciplinary theory of politics and performance; performativity and theatricality; protest, regulation, resistance, change, authority, identities, race, gender, sexuality, class, citizenship, indigeneity, sites, states, borders, markets, law, religion, scripts, accountability, authority, and legitimacy; security, ceremony, sustainability, body, voice, and gesture; representation, leadership, participation, rhetoric, disruption, and affect; media, care, love, empathy, comedy, populism, memory.

Inequality Studies from the Global South David Francis, Imraan Valodia, Edward Webster, 2020-05-04 This book offers an innovative interdisciplinary approach to thinking about inequality and to understanding how inequality is produced and reproduced in the global South. Without the safety net of the various Northern welfare states, inequality in the global South is not merely a socio-economic problem but an existential threat to the social contract that underpins the democratic state and society itself. Only a response that is firmly grounded in the context of the global South can hope to address this problem. This collection brings together scholars from across the globe with a particular focus on the global South to address broad thematic areas such as the conceptual and methodological challenges of measuring inequality; the political economy of inequality in the global South; inequality in work, households, and the labour market; and inequalities in land, spaces, and cities. The book concludes by suggesting alternatives for addressing inequality in the global South and around the world. The pioneering ideas and theories put forward by this volume make it essential reading for students and researchers of global inequality across the fields of sociology, economics, law, politics, global studies, and development studies.

No Last Place to Rest Dineo Skosana, 2025-02 No Last Place to Rest: Coal Mining and Dispossession in South Africa is an exploration of the ongoing struggles faced by families whose lives have been upended by the relentless expansion of coal mining operations in the Mpumalanga and KwaZulu Natal provinces. These regions, burdened with the task of fulfilling the nation's energy needs and boosting the country's economy, witness daily the harsh realities of land dispossession that extend far beyond the mere loss of property Dineo Skosana presents a compelling argument that dispossession remains a present day reality and crisis contradicting the notion that it is merely a relic of the past in the post apartheid landscape She challenges the narrow perspective that measures land loss in material and economic terms only By considering the impact of grave relocations a common occurrence in these mining dominated locales she demonstrates the profound spiritual anguish and dehumanisation communities endure as their lands are excavated and families lose their sacred connections with their ancestors Skosana argues that the act of dispossession of both the living and the dead from their land wounds the collective soul of a people eroding their cultural heritage collective identity and sense of belonging This book offers a rich ethnographic account of the experiences struggles and resistance of the affected communities as well as a critical analysis of the legal and policy frameworks that enable their exploitation In relation to the land question in South Africa No Last Place to Rest presents deep insights for communities activists and government sectors acting in support of social justice and redress
