Facilitate Cognitive Performance Annelies Vredeveltdt, Timothy John Hollins, 2015-03-26 When faced with a difficult task people often look at the sky or close their eyes This behavior is functional the reduction of distractions in the environment can improve performance on cognitive tasks including memory retrieval Reduction of visual distractions can be operationalized through eye closure gaze aversion or by comparing exposure to simple and complex visual displays respectively Reduction of auditory distractions is typically examined by comparing performance under quiet and noisy conditions Theoretical reasoning regarding this phenomenon draws on various psychological principles including embodied cognition cognitive load and modality specific interference Practical applications of the research topic are diverse For example the findings could be used to improve performance in forensic settings e g eyewitness testimony educational settings e g exam performance occupational settings e g employee productivity or medical settings e g medical history reporting This Research Topic welcomes articles from all areas of psychology relating to the reduction of distractions to improve task performance Articles can address but are not limited to new empirical findings comprehensive reviews theoretical frameworks opinion pieces or discussions of practical applications Food in America Andrew F.

Smith, 2017-02-16 This three volume work examines all facets of the modern U S food system including the nation's most important food and agriculture laws the political forces that shape modern food policy and the food production trends that are directly impacting the lives of every American family Americans are constantly besieged by conflicting messages about food the environment and health and nutrition Are foods with genetically modified ingredients safe Should we choose locally grown food Is organic food better than conventional food Are concentrated animal feed operations destroying the environment Should food corporations target young children with their advertising and promotional campaigns This comprehensive three volume set addresses all of these questions and many more probing the problems created by the industrial food system examining conflicting opinions on these complex food controversies and highlighting the importance of food in our lives and the decisions we make each time we eat The coverage of each of the many controversial food issues in the set offers perspectives from different sides to encourage readers to examine various viewpoints and make up their own minds The first volume Food and the Environment addresses timely issues such as climate change food waste pesticides and sustainable foods Volume two entitled Food and Health and Nutrition addresses subjects like antibiotics food labeling and the effects of salt and sugar on our health The third volume Food and the Economy tackles topics such as food advertising and marketing food corporations genetically modified foods globalization and megagrocery chains Each volume contains several dozen primary documents that include firsthand accounts written by promoters and advertisers journalists politicians and government officials and supporters and critics of various views related to food and beverages representing speeches advertisements articles books portions of major laws and government documents to name a few These documents provide readers additional resources from which to form informed opinions on food issues Climate Refugees Simon Behrman,Avidan Kent,2018-02-06 Current estimates of the numbers of people who will be forced from their homes as a result of climate change by the middle of the century range from 50 to 200 million Therefore even the most optimistic projections envisage a crisis of migration that will dwarf any we have seen so far And yet attempts to develop legal mechanisms to deal with this impending crisis have reached an impasse that shows little sign of being overcome This is in spite of the rapidly growing academic study and policy development in the area of climate change generally Climate Refugees Beyond the Legal Impasse addresses a fundamental gap in academic literature and policy making namely the legal no man s land in which the issue of climate refugees currently resides Past proposals for the regulation of climate induced migration are evaluated inter alia by their original authors and the volume also looks at current attempts to regulate climate induced migration including by officials from the International Organization for Migration IOM the office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees UNHCR and the Platform on Displacement Disaster PDD Bringing together experts from a variety of academic fields as well as officials from leading international organisations this book will be of great interest to students and researchers of Environmental Law Refugee Law Human Rights Law Environmental Studies and International Relations

European Patent Law Duncan Matthews,Paul Torremans,2023-10-04 This book provides a comprehensive overview of European Patent Law It presents a critical analysis of the European patent law system and the proposed changes to it The book explores the strengths and weaknesses of the European Patent Convention and the interaction between the national and the European level as well as across borders Insurance in European VAT Marta Papis-Almansa,2016-11-30 Insurance constitutes a significant part of the financial services sector and is one of the foundations of modern economy and society In the design of tax laws however whether and how to tax insurance is a complex issue that has become particularly controversial in the area of value added tax VAT In the European Union as in most of the world insurance is exempt from VAT but New Zealand and Australia do not follow this practice Given that New Zealand s simple comprehensive goods and services tax GST called the world s purest value added tax and its modified Australian version do not appear to suffer from the shortcomings in efficiency and effectiveness that plague European VAT a comparison of the two systems is in order This book is not only the first comparative in depth study of the treatment of insurance in the two systems but also the first comprehensive legal research devoted to the treatment of insurance in EU VAT published in English Among the underlying issues and topics treated by the two systems covered are the following who has a right to deduct input VAT in relation to supplies inherent in insurance arrangements and to what extent what constitutes a supply of insurance and consideration for such a supply what transactions fall within the scope of the VAT Directive s exemption for insurance and drawing a line between insurance and saving The analysis is grounded in a methodology in which concepts of European VAT are compared with concepts performing the same function in the Australian and New Zealand GST laws The author concludes with proposals for reform in EU VAT in the light of experience in these two major non EU countries Given that it has been proven that exemptions from VAT such as insurance cause a significant number of economic distortions and inefficiencies this study represents a major contribution to a topical debate in European VAT law It will be welcomed by taxation authorities interested policymakers practitioners and scholars not only in Europe but worldwide
