

Effect of Parents Divorce on Children, Adolescents and Adults

In society broken families have been always on humans' lives. Divorce is the major cause why family is broken apart that is a common thing in today's life. However, in some cases divorces can be the only solution to bring stability, be on peace, and be happy each one another. Divorce is the last decision that needs to be taken as a couple, because it can be bring consequences to the whole family. Annulment is a legal dissolution of a marriage by a court in order to dissolve an irremediably broken marriage. In this article will go in depth in each stage where children, adolescents, and even the parents can have some problems that may affect in their long-term growth when it comes to divorce.

In the article, "Wilkinson & Finkbeiner Family Law Attorney's" said, "As of 2016, both marriages rates and divorce rates in the U.S. are decreasing, the divorce rate in the U.S. is 3.2 per 1,000 population." This demonstrate that people divorce frequently, but most of the women are the ones that want to separate from her husband. Divorce it can be a massive change into the life of a boy or girl no matter the age of the individuals most of the time they present the same effects when parents are separating.

There are the ones who are witness of how the love on their parents had been lost, how they fight every night, ear them saying "I don't want to spend more time by your side" for both of their parents. They start to begin thinking why dad and mom are talking bad to each other, when they remember that both of their parents one day they were in love and saying beautiful complements to one another.

In this article name "Psychology Today" by Carl E. Pickhardt who has a Ph.D. in Psychologist states, "Having parents break their marriage commitment, adjusting to going back and forth between two different households, and the daily absence of one parent while living with the other." All of these creates a challenging circumstance within a new family, it significantly changes children life from what was before.

Carl E. Pickhardt states, "Convincing a young child of the permanence of divorce can be hard when his intense longing fantasizes that somehow, some way, mom and dad will be living back together again someday." This show that as a young child can be hard to see their parents separate because they are holding hope for one day they will be reunited together and live happy after, but in reality, that's not true.

When they become adolescents, children tend to develop some kind of resentment towards one parent or in some cases towards both of them. In an adolescent can realize more quickly and accept the finality of his unwelcome family had change. When parents are currently getting a divorce a big error they do are that still hang out, when there is a holiday they all came together, like there were family.

Narrative Essay About Parents Divorce:

I-writing Karen Surman Paley, 2001 In this ethnographic study of the teaching of writing Karen Surman Paley reveals the social significance of first person writing and the limitations of a popular taxonomy of composition studies Paley looks critically at the way social constructionists have created an Other in the field of composition studies and named it expressivist Paley demonstrates the complexity of approaches to teaching writing through an ethnographic study of two composition faculty at Boston College a program that some would say is expressivist She prompts her colleagues to consider how family experiences shape the way students feel about and treat people of races religions genders and sexual preferences other than their own Finally she suggests to the field of composition that practitioners spend less time shoring up taxonomies of the field and more time sharing pedagogies

Personally Speaking Candace Spigelman, 2004-10-07 Responding to contemporary discussion about using personal accounts in academic writing Personally Speaking Experience as Evidence in Academic Discourse draws on classical and current rhetorical theory feminist theory and relevant examples from both published writers and first year writing students to illustrate the advantages of blending experiential and academic perspectives Candace Spigelman examines how merging personal and scholarly worldviews produces useful contradictions and contributes to a more a complex understanding in academic writing This rhetorical move allows for greater insights than the reading or writing of experiential or academic modes separately does Personally Speaking foregrounds the semi fictitious nature of personal stories and the rhetorical possibilities of evidence as Spigelman provides strategies for writing instructors who want to teach personal academic argument while supplying practical mechanisms for evaluating experiential claims The volume seeks to complicate and intensify disciplinary debates about how compositionists should write for publication and what kinds of writing should be taught to composition students Spigelman not only supplies evidence as to why the personal can count as evidence but also relates how to use it effectively by including student samples that reflect particular features of personal writing Finally she lays the groundwork to move narrative from its current site as confessional writing to the domain of academic discourse
