Teaching In and Beyond Pandemic Times Jonathan D Jansen, Theola Farmer-Phillips, 2021-07-01 Here for the first time is an account of the inner lives of teachers during and immediately after the pandemic lockdown What is teaching like during a pandemic How did teachers manage their emotional lives as colleagues became infected hospitalised and died What did teachers actually do to bridge the gap in teaching and learning where schools and homes lacked electronic resources These are amongst the many questions on which this collection of teacher stories sheds light Most of these are stories of hope resilience and enormous courage in the face of a deadly virus Your faith in teachers and teaching will be restored after reading this book Social Studies Education in South and South East Asian Contexts Kerry J Kennedy, 2021-07-22

The education of young people is context bound This edited volume explores the contexts that characterise South and South East Asia and their influence on social studies education There is not a single context across this broad geographical expanse rather different religions different political systems and different values exert influences that create distinctive programmes that characterise different countries Yet there are also commonalities such as the post colonial nature of most of the countries portrayed in this book determined efforts at establishing new national communities and multiple value systems that lead to distinctive local priorities There are also voices of resistance in these chapters recognising the realities of local contexts but also recognising the need for change Social studies education in these contexts may well be descended from its origins in North America but in South and South Asian contexts it has taken on new purposes new forms and new values Education researchers policymakers and postgraduate students in comparative education will find the volume useful in its exploration and comparison of the social studies curricular and reforms that shaped them CSE Report ,2005
