MAN Wants Tougher Legislations On Illegal Mining

BY MICHAEL EKPEDE/LEADER

Wardens and vigilantes' activities of illegal mining in the country, governments or military leaders have been urged to enforce regulations to prevent furthering illegal mining. In place of wardens and vigilantes, the Mines Association of Nigeria

(MAN) said the "total" haul over the years led to the loss of a large chunk of locally generated revenue (LGR), adding that conventional proceeds of illegal exploration and exploitation of solid minerals had become a national scourge and big embarrassment to the country. Chairman of the Mines Association of Nigeria (MAN), Comrade

Edoga, lamented that these illegal mining activities have resulted in significant revenue losses to both the federal and state governments.

argument is that Commission presidents matter not only in the process of European integration but that their impact varies according to how the different incumbents deal with the institutional structure and the situational circumstances and thus their available strategic choices The primary research question is thus What makes political leadership in European governance successful and to what extent and why do Commission presidents differ in their leadership performance In addressing this question this book departs from existing research on EU leadership which has to date often analysed either the EU's institutional structure and its potential for leadership or mainly focused on only the most recent incumbents in case study analyses Focusing on the multiterm European Commission presidents Walter Hallstein Jacques Delors and Jos Manuel Barroso this book conceptualizes their political leadership as a performance and thus systematically analyzes their agenda setting mediative institutional and public outreach performance over the entire course of their presidential terms
