Barnett, Philip A. Woods, 2021-01-01 To commemorate the 10 year anniversary of the International School Leadership Development Network ISLDN this book is a compilation of the work conducted by network scholars This volume is the first comprehensive overview of the studies conducted by ISLDN members engaged in examining how social justice leaders and leaders of high needs schools address the social conditions learning experiences and performance of their students Other international school leadership research consortia have emerged in the 21st century however the ISLDN is the second longest operating project after the International Successful School

Principalship Project ISSPP Since its creation in 2010 ISLDN scholars have delivered papers at a variety of international conferences and shared findings in research publications including books and special issues of journals Until now ISLDN research findings have been disseminated separately for the project's two strands a social justice leadership and b leadership in underperforming high needs schools Therefore the purpose of the book is to document the history and evolution of the ISLDN and to provide descriptions and reflections of the project's research findings methodologies and collaborative processes across the two strands This volume captures studies of school leaders from 19 countries representing six continents Africa Asia Australia and Oceania Europe North America and South America The authors examine important external and internal contextual factors influencing schools in different cultural settings and provide insights about the values and practices of social justice leaders working in high needs school settings Numerous practical strategies are provided for school leaders working in schools with similar conditions The concluding chapter by the co editors synthesizes the structural factors personal beliefs and values and contextualized change management strategies that shape school leaders actions aimed at ensuring the best learning outcomes for their students Besides capturing the range of findings emerging from various ISLDN studies conducted over the past decade several chapters critically examine the project's current contributions to the field Authors suggest broadening the dissemination of our findings to increase the visibility of the project expanding the research methods beyond qualitative interviews incorporating studies from non Anglophone countries and augmenting the scope of our analyses and research focus These researchers journeys also reveal the obstacles to and benefits of engaging in these types of international collaborative research ventures

Latino Educational Leadership
Cristóbal Rodriguez, Melissa A Martinez, Fernando Valle, 2018-09-01 Latino Educational Leadership acknowledges the unique preparation and support for both Latinx educational leaders and Latino communities needed throughout the education and policy pipeline While leadership in communities exists for educational purposes this effort focuses on the institutional aspect of Latino Educational Leadership across K 12 schools and university settings The purpose of this book is to create a greater collaborative focus on Latino Educational Leadership by inviting scholarly contributions and insights from both established and up and coming scholars Latino Educational Leadership also advocates for the preparation of all leaders as well as the preparation of Latinx educational leaders to serve Latino communities Our impetus on Latino Educational Leadership primarily stems from the changing demographics of our country As of Fall 2017 Latinx student enrollment in K 12 schools reached an all time high with Latinxs comprising 26.8% of the nation's public school enrollment Postsecondary level Latinx student enrollment has also improved rising from 25% in 2005 to 37% in 2015 Given this growth particularly at the K 12 level there has been an increasing urgency to prepare and support more Latinx educational leaders Their rich cultural and linguistic connections to communities help them more readily understand and meet the needs of Latino students and families Aside from enrollment growth Latinxs have made record strides in postsecondary attainment between 2003-04 and 2013-14 bachelor s degrees more than doubled from 94 644 to 202 412 master s degrees conferred rose from 29 806 to 55 965 and doctoral degrees rose from 5 795 to 10 665 Despite such promising gains concern has not waned over how to best address the challenges this diverse student population continues to face in accessing persisting and matriculating across the P 20 Pipeline There is still work to be done as only 11% of all bachelor s degrees 9% of all master s degrees and 7% of all doctoral degrees were awarded to Latinxs in 2013 14 In particular there is increasing urgency to address how higher education institutions can better prepare develop and retain Latinx leaders and scholars who will serve and meet the needs of Latinx college students to ensure their academic success Thus the purpose of this book is to advance the knowledge related to serving Latino communities and preparing Latinx leaders

Between the Theory and Practice of Democracy in Nigeria

Elochukwu C. Amucheazi, Okechukwu Ibeanu, 2008 Obasanjo s first term in office as a civilian president 1999 2003 was a major litmus test for the future of Nigeria s fledgling democracy Set in a critical conjuncture characterized by high popular expectations and international goodwill on the one hand and weak institutions and deep seated social cleavages exacerbated by years of military rule on the other the new civilian governments at the Federal and State levels were expected to quickly deliver the dividends of democracy to prevent an authoritarian throwback The expectations included a quick improvement in social service delivery ending egregious human rights violations of the military era improving infrastructure strengthening institutions of governance and creating jobs But how did the Obasanjo regime fare in meeting the citizens expectations in its first term in office What were the challenges faced by practitioners in all the branches and levels of government in achieving their electoral promises and public expectations And how did they respond to those challenges In this book some of Nigeria s leading academics dialogue with politicians who hold or have held key political positions including Governor Ibrahim Idris of Kogi State former state governors Orji Kalu Sam Egwu and Chris Ngige as well as other key political practitioners to find answers to some of the above questions The contributors address numerous thorny issues in Nigerian politics and governance including federalism and presidentialism elections and the electoral process the judiciary and courts parties and the party system the economy as well as foreign policy Specifically they address the issues of executive legislative relations executive judiciary relations party government relations Federal and State relations and the relations between President Obasanjo and State Governors that he regarded as recalcitrant The book is unique in that it departs from the conventional academic balance sheet approach of matching popular expectations against government s service delivery to actually incorporate the views and experiences of the practitioners in the field This is done not for self justificatory purposes but to genuinely articulate and perspectivise the challenges the practitioners faced and their own efforts at coping with such challenges
