From Dependence to Dignity Brian Fikkert, Russell Mask, 2015-05-12 The church of Jesus Christ finds itself at a very unique moment in history The average Christian living in the economically advanced countries enjoys a level of prosperity that has been unimaginable for most of human history. At the same time over 2.5 billion people in the Majority World Africa Asia and Latin America live on less than 2 per day with many of these people being Christians. Ironically it is amongst the least of these in the Global South that the global church is experiencing the most rapid growth. All of this raises profound challenges to the global church. How can churches and missionaries in the Majority World effectively address the devastating poverty both inside their congregations and just outside their doors? How can churches in the economically advanced countries effectively partner with Global South churches in this process? The very integrity of the global church's testimony is at stake for where God's people reside there should be no poverty. Deuteronomy 15:4 Acts 4:34. For the past several decades microfinance (MF) and microenterprise development (MED) have been the leading approaches to poverty alleviation. MF/MED is a set of interventions that allow households to better manage their finances and start small businesses. From remote churches in rural Africa to the short-term missions programs of mega churches in the United States churches and missionaries have taken the plunge into MF/MED trying to emulate the apparent success of large-scale relief and development organizations. Unfortunately most churches and missionaries find this to be far more difficult than they had imagined. Repayment rates on loans are low and churches typically end up with struggling programs that require ongoing financial subsidies. Everybody gets hurt in the process: donors, relief and development agencies, churches and missionaries, and most importantly the poor people themselves. This book explains the basic principles for successfully utilizing microfinance in ministry. Drawing on best practice research and their own pioneering work with the Chalmers Center, Brian Fikkert and Russell Mask chart a path for churches and missionaries to pursue a path that minimizes the risks of harm, relies on local resources, and enables missionaries and churches to minister in powerful ways to the spiritual and economic needs of some of the poorest people on the planet. The insights of microfinance can play a tremendous role in helping to stabilize poor households, removing them from the brink of disaster, and enabling them to make the changes that are conducive to long-term progress. Moreover, when combined with evangelism and discipleship, a church-centered microfinance program can be a powerful tool for holistic ministry, one that is empowering for the poor and devoid of the dependencies plaguing most relationships between churches in economically advanced countries and churches in poor nations.

This Christian affirmation is the reality that holds all things together and holds all things together. God doesn't call us to carry the burdens of the world and its transformation on our own shoulders. Christ carries the world and by the power of the Spirit we live in Christ. We do not have a mission for God in the world. Rather, the God of mission has us in the world. Each of us has a vital role in the world. We are invited to participate in God's generous love, bringing heaven to earth through us now. The seven sessions of BEYOND Duty guide individuals, groups, and churches to our places as participants in God's mission in the world. I originally wrote Beyond Duty to help liberate mission fanatics like me from enslavement to a human-centered approach to mission. That liberation is still needed today. In our eagerness to make a difference in the world, we can quickly subvert the good news of God's sovereign love into our ambitious, burdensome, and at times tedious effort to fulfill our mission in the world. This revised and expanded edition pursues this seeking God's liberating grace to free us from the vain presumption that the future of God's mission is up to us. Through a combination of our compassion regarding urgent needs, what feels to us like the inactivity of God, and the drive of our own need to make a difference in the world, many of us all too easily take the needs of the world onto our shoulders as our personal responsibility. This sounds so foolish. However, mission narcissism runs deep. Though it may be obvious, it still deserves to be said again: Our central commitment is to God and God's kingdom, not to ourselves or our service for God in that kingdom. To make anything other than loving God and living in God's love for our neighbor, even something as good and noble as God's mission in the world, the central passion and commitment of our life is just plain old idolatry dressed in Christian clothing. I've lived much of my life seeking to serve in God's mission, but I wonder at times for whom I am really working. My suspicion is that sometimes I've spread the unpleasant aroma of my need to make a difference in the world more than the sweet aroma of Christ. In my more honest moments, I admit that some of my mission was to reinforce my sense of significance. It's so easy to become intoxicated by the seductive lies of our society that size determines significance, speed measures impact, and worth depends on success. The gospel frees us to live from the center of God's encompassing love. We needn't live from the burdensome center of me. It's not about my mission, ambitions, work, and weaknesses. We can live as grateful participants in God's love for the world. In the midst of our obedient service, we can sing and play and not take ourselves so seriously. What others are saying about BEYOND Duty: A refreshing departure from usual mission books. Emmanuel Katongole. I am pleased to recommend this book to you. Bill Hybels. This may be the most important book I've read all year. Steve Haas. An excellent practical tool for churches. Ron Sider. Read this rich reflection and serve with freedom. Mark Labberton. Inviting, full of stories. Christ-centered. Steve Sharol Hayner. Substantial and practical. I commend it warmly. Vinay Samuel. This is a wise guide. Tom Theriault.
